Introduction

Think of emotions – what first comes to mind? Perhaps joy, anger, fear, surprise, or love. Indeed, these are some of the emotions that all humans are familiar with. But our repertoire does not end there; it includes many shades of experience that are positive, negative, or a bit of both. For instance, you can think of admiration, relief, contempt, anxiety, pride, and hope. In fact, there are more than 50 different human emotions – each with unique qualities and experiences. All of these can be felt when using consumer products. And there are an infinite number of reasons why products evoke emotions. To get started, this booklet presents 700+ examples. These are personal examples, collected by more than 100 design students. The diversity may inspire you, amuse you, or perhaps challenge you to explore your own experiences and those of the people you are designing products for. We hope you will enjoy it!

Booklet Structure

This booklet is intended as a source of inspiration, showcasing the diversity of emotions experienced in relation to consumer products.

We distinguished three layers of product emotions that differ in terms of the role of the product, from direct to indirect:

- The product as an OBJECT

The emotion is evoked by the product in itself. These are responses to the object's appearance, qualities or features, or to its cultural or personal meaning.

- The product as an INSTRUMENT

The emotion is evoked by something that happens during product usage. These are responses to the actions and interactions that are needed to fulfil the product's purpose.

- The product as an ENABLER

The emotion is evoked by something that happens in the context of using the product. These are responses to social interactions and all other kinds of events that take place in the activity in which the product is used.

Admiration

India was successful with its very first attempt at launching Mangalyaan, the orbiter to Mars. This was an admirable feat that was extremely cost efficient. I admire the sheer genius and relentless efforts of the scientists behind this accomplishment.

Object, Association

Tesla cars are something I look at with much awe. It is maybe because of my admiration for Elon Musk and also the cars' amazing features. To make something like this and make it so sustainable, means I admire it a lot!

Object, Association

Some musicians are really good at playing the guitar and my admiration for their seemingly effortless rendition is huge. I admire the hours of practice they do to perfect their skills.

Object, Association

Feeling an urge to prize, look up to, and highly estimate someone or something for their worth or achievement. Admiration arises when we think of or interact with objects and people with praiseworthy accomplishments, abilities, characters, or qualities.

admiration

Even though ballet shoes are very hard and painful to use, I feel admiration when seeing them. I admire the complete activity of dancing, the moves, the well-shaped body, and the beauty of the dance.

Object, Association

admiration

The MacBook Pro is a well-crafted machine that is easy to use. I feel admiration for the sleek aluminium body and the ease of carrying it, as well as for its excellent performance.

Instrument, Use

admiration

Moby Dick is a timeless classic. When I'm engaged in reading it, I feel admiration for the author's skill in creating such wonderful experiences.

Enabler, Activity

admiration

People who are good at working with machines to craft whatever they have in mind always have my admiration, especially if they use tools that I avoid because I think they are scary.

Instrument, Use

admiration

I admire how a vegetable slicer can be very easy to use and work so well. It slices very thin, which is difficult with a normal knife. Also, different types of slices are possible, so I admire it even more while using it.

Instrument, Use

admiration

Vaccines protect people against diseases. Before this invention, most people died from smallpox or other diseases. I admire vaccines because they have saved a lot of lives. It represents the development of medicine, an achievement of humankind.

Object, Association

admiration

I admire that something as compact as a video game disc allows you to immerse yourself in large, beautiful, interactive and exciting worlds. In my view this is nothing less than a triumphant work of art.

Instrument, Use

admiration

When riding a longboard, I admire other people who are able to ride it better, faster and smoother than myself. I want to be able to ride faster and more confidently.

Instrument, Use

admiration

admiration

admiration

When seeing a live music performance, I admire the people on stage who make others happy by playing their instrument. This is something I want to achieve too, and it creates a sense of awe, respect and motivation.

Band-Aids are cool. I admire people who take their time to design something so 'mehh' yet so invaluable when you get a papercut.

This is a self-made cajón, a percussive musical instrument. I admire any object that lets others express themselves. I admire people who make instruments and live to make others happy.

Seeing the extraordinary things artists can create with a brush evokes admiration. I feel it when observing them at work.

admiration

The realisation that such a long time ago people put so much effort in, and were able to make, such impressive buildings evokes a feeling of admiration.

Pressing your own espresso with this espresso maker provides me with such pleasure that I cannot help but admire the designer who created it.

Eco bags give me a feeling of admiration as I value those people who try to use them as many times as possible in their daily lives.

Stage lighting emphasises the performance and makes me admire the performer on the stage even more than I already do.

admiration

The wall mounted CD player is a typical MUJI product designed by Naoto Fukasawa. I admire this designer, and the product reminds me of him.

Object, Association

admiration

I admire the designers of smartphones for the convenience and new experiences that they have offered us.

Enabler, Association

admiration

Looking at the ancient sites in Greece fills me with admiration and makes me think of the feats of people who lived more than 2000 years ago.

Enabler, Relation

admiration

I feel admiration when I see my friend using markers. I think he is really good at it and I wish I could be as good as him.

Enabler, Activity

admiration

I admire the shape and the material of the Harley-Davidson, specifically the excellent fusion of both elegance and masculinity.

Object, Form

admiration

People play astonishing jazz music with a DW drum set. I admire the person who can play beautiful music, and I also feel this admiration when seeing this magical drum set.

Object, Association

amusement

Enjoying the experience of being entertained or finding something funny. Amusement arises when we encounter something funny, entertaining, or absurd that makes us smile or laugh.

I imagine seeing this life-sized pin-board at the bus stop. This would make the waiting time very amusing and playful. Not only when I would do this myself but also when I would look at other people doing it.

Enabler, Activity

amusement

A carousel or merry-go-round is such a sweet, old invention. Its purpose is not to evoke frenetic exhilaration, but to provide some charming delight for the little ones. The colourful decorations, animals, the playful movements and sweet sounds all contribute to the experience.

Object, Association

amusement

This is a urinal that looks like a guitar. By turning peeing into a game, it makes using the urinal playful and amusing.

Instrument, Use

amusement

These lights always provide for a lot amusement in my shared house, even if the only thing they do is be silent, soft, and cute. By changing colour, they literally light up my day, and they make a great party gadget.

Instrument, Use

amusement

These blocks can create a marble track. The creativity and freedom felt when using it and seeing the cute marble race amuses me, even though I am an adult.

Instrument, Use

amusement

When typing 'group costumes' in google images, a whole new world opens up to me; people collectively dressing up in a theme amuses me very much!

Enabler, Activity

amusement

This is a wine stand shaped like a dog. Dogs don't drink wine, and I am amused by this absurd combination.

Object, Form

amusement

Underwear with funny and cute illustrations gives me the giggles.

I received this poster as a present two months ago. I have it in my room and it amuses me every time I see it.

I first tried this chair a couple of years ago at a furniture fair in Valencia. When you sit down, you have the sensation that you are going to fall down. But you won't, which makes it exciting, fun and amusing.

Sometimes my eyeliner ends up being more amusing than sexy.

I shave in small steps because the process amuses me and my girlfriend.

It was amusing to see my nephews wearing these dorky safety glasses during our campfire bread-baking activity.

Enabler, Activity

amusement

I feel amused whenever I see these little frog magnets. I want to meet up with my sister, because she gave them to me, and they remind me of her happy and spontaneous character.

Object, Association

amusement

This coffee cup is funny because it has little legs and a big ear – it can stand up straight but also tilted like in the picture. It makes me smile because in my eyes the cup is a bit rebellious.

Object, Form

amusement

My colleague loves birds. I bought these cute bird pins and told her that she can pick one every time she has submitted a chapter of the book she is writing. Her response was hilarious and now we are both very amused every time we see the pins.

Object, Personal Meaning

amusement

We had a lot of fun and amusement with Santa's hat during our Christmas drinks.

Instrument, Use

amusement

I took this picture of my mother when she was inflating the beach ball. When I showed her the picture we both had to laugh, it was such an amusing image.

Enabler, Situation

amusement

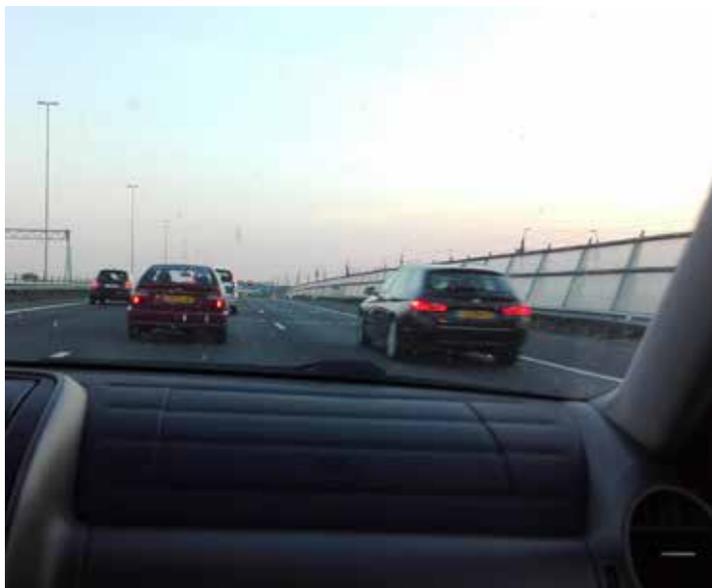

In a hotel, they gave me room number thirteen. I am not superstitious, but I thought hotels usually don't have room number 13. I thought it was funny and I have sent the picture to my friends.

Object, Association

Anger

The feeling when someone did something bad that harmed or offended you. You want to go against this person to stop them or prevent them from doing it again.

anger

When people cut our car off, my boyfriend always reprimands them with an angry voice, even though they cannot hear him.

Activity, Enabler

anger

I feel anger when I see this lying on the street, because it represents an industry focused on addiction, that adds to the habit of only thinking about and acting upon your own needs.

Object, Association

anger

I feel the urge to tell the people that left this behind that a disposable barbecue is actually meant to be disposed of, instead of leaving it in a picnic spot for others to find.

Instrument, Use

anger

Using an epilator is a painful experience, therefore it makes me feel angry when I use it. I endure it because it is less painful than waxing.

Enabler, Activity

anger

Guns make me angry because, although they are harmful for all the creatures in the world, they are still extensively used.

Object, Association

anger

My vacuum cleaner can make me very angry, especially when its cable is stuck with the furniture or it does not work properly. Most irritating is when it does not follow me, because it is stuck behind a piece of furniture.

Instrument, Use

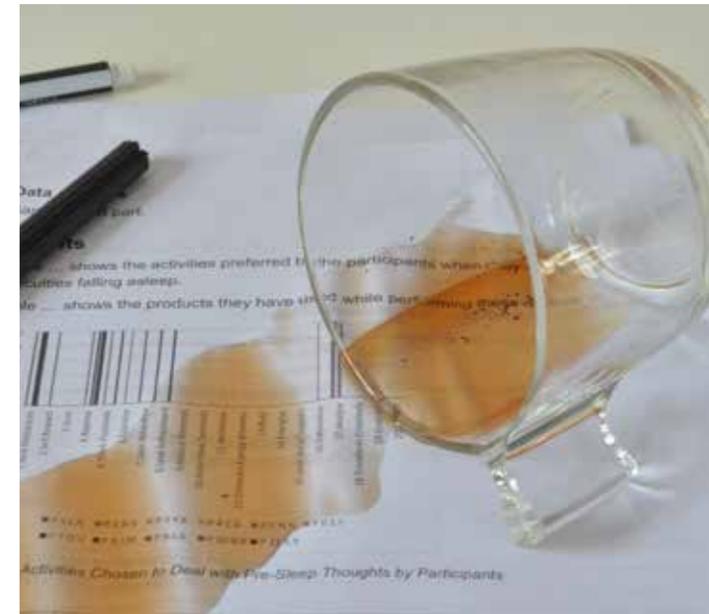

anger

Seeing a plastic bottle unleashes a tiny feeling of anger in me, as it is a product known to cause a lot of environmental issues, which is a threat to the earth thus a threat to humans. Seeing the plastic bottles laying on the streets unleashes even more anger.

Object, Association

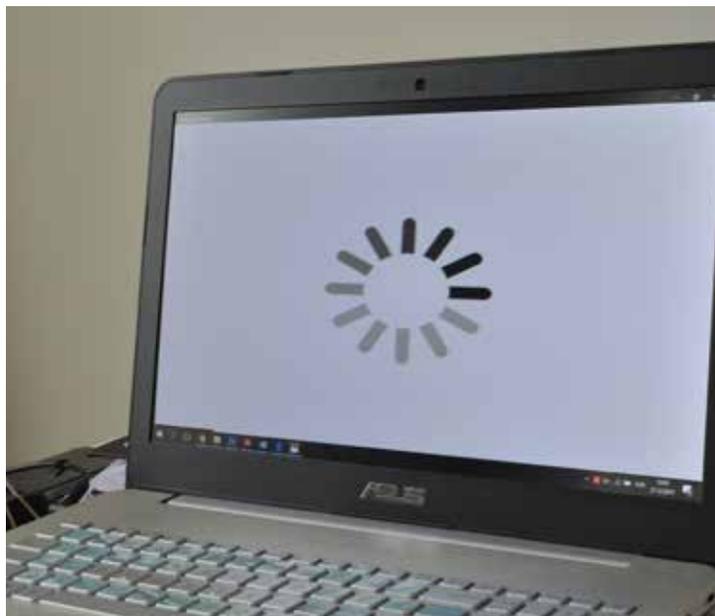

anger

When someone accidentally spills coffee or tea over my work, I feel angry because my work was ruined due to someone else's clumsiness.

Enabler, Situation

anger

The internet has become almost indispensable in our daily lives. Sometimes when the internet is slow, it makes me angry and upset as it slows down my progress.

Enabler, Situation

anger

Trying to open a tight jar can make me very angry, especially when I'm hungry and home alone. This is caused by the injustice of having paid for the food and the reality of a badly designed package.

Instrument, Use

anger

I'm angry with bagpipes for multiple reasons: They make the most penetrating sound you can imagine; they are made to be out of tune for no reason; they are designed to never stop making sound; and yet there are people that put a lot of time and effort in them.

Object, Form

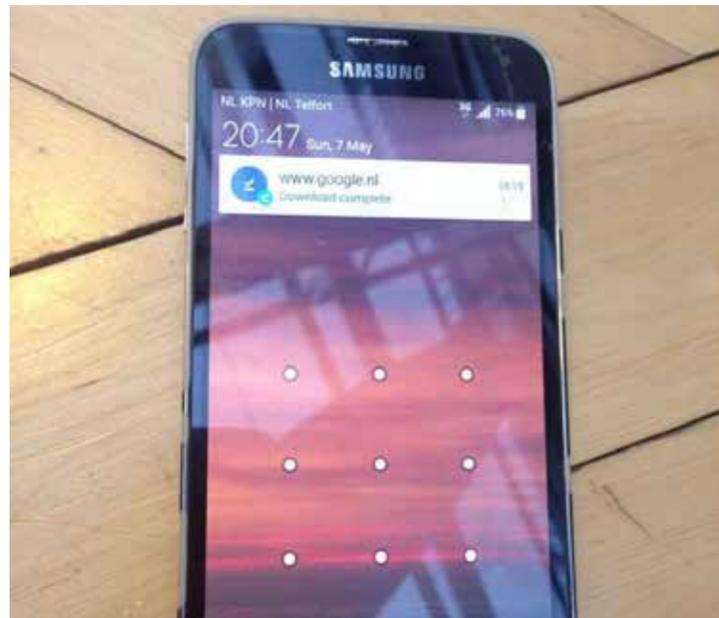

anger

Craftsmanship souvenirs make me angry because in the larger cities there are millions of handmade 'quality' souvenirs and the market men only care about getting money by selling them in most annoying ways.

Object, Association

anger

Using my android phone makes me angry because it doesn't behave the way I want it to. I have the feeling that the interface is constantly trying to trick me, and it never shows me the information I need.

Instrument, Use

anger

Permanent markers look almost identical to the whiteboard markers. I have had several whiteboard accidents with them. I am very angry with the manufacturer for not making more effort in showing the difference between permanent and non-permanent markers. And I get angry with the people who put permanent markers close to whiteboards. It is almost as if they want me to have an accident!

Instrument, Use

anger

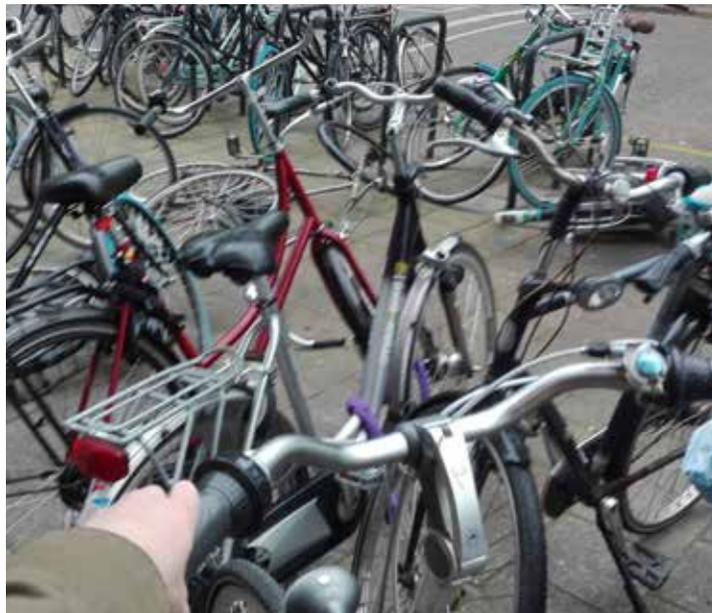

I do believe that having shared bikes is a desirable development. However, I can get angry with people who dump the bike just anywhere, not caring about other people.

Enabler, Situation

Annoyance

The feeling when something is happening that bothers you. You have the urge to say or do something to change it or make it stop.

annoyance

Whenever I try to leave or enter my flat, there are just too many bikes to move around. I feel like it is unfair for people who park their bikes in the right way, and it annoys me that there are no consequences for wrongly parking your bike.

Enabler, Situation

annoyance

I get annoyed if I sit in an uncomfortable airplane seat, especially when the source of annoyance is strangers invading my personal space, or, people talking when I try to read a book.

Enabler, Relation

annoyance

I'm annoyed with the fact that skin lightening creams still exist. That being white is 'ideal' and one is not pretty if they are not white is an absurd, dehumanising idea the industry tries to force on everyone.

Object, Association

annoyance

I get very annoyed when somebody uses their car horn unnecessarily, especially when there is a traffic jam.

Enabler, Relation

annoyance

Making coffee is a ritual most people go through every morning. I live in a shared house with roommates, and finding used coffee filters in the machine from the day before makes me feel annoyed with certain roommates.

Enabler, Relation

annoyance

Near Field Communication (NFC) payment is exciting but when it is implemented as an exclusive payment option it can leave out people that don't have NFC enabled payment means. Not being able to pay for a coffee in the morning can be quite annoying.

Enabler, Activity

annoyance

A router is the portal to the online world. Being so dependent on its proper functioning leads to rather annoying situations in those instances when it fails to do its job.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

Some plastic packaging is such a struggle to open. I can be very annoyed by that.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

Relaxing in a park is very nice, but it can be annoying when there is music coming from speakers of other groups around me.

Enabler, Situation

annoyance

Plastic plates remind me of the vast plastic waste, which makes it annoying to see.

Object, Association

annoyance

When I'm browsing through a menu which consists of several loose papers attached to each other with a clip and they come loose I feel annoyed because it should not happen in the first place.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

When a teacher is writing on a chalkboard, sometimes I hear this really annoying sound which gives me goose bumps.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

I am annoyed when a book doesn't open well enough to read the complete page.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

I feel annoyed when a fountain is making a sound which makes me feel like I have to pee while a toilet is not in reach.

Enabler, Situation

annoyance

I can be annoyed when a product is just off in terms of symmetry or rhythm in shapes.

Object, Form

annoyance

I feel annoyed about the train delay when I have an important appointment because it ruins my plan.

Instrument, Use

annoyance

anxiety

anxiety

I use this adhesive tape in creative workshops. I get very annoyed when it tears while I'm unrolling it from the roll. It shouldn't do that...

The feeling when you think about bad things that could happen to you. You are on guard, because you don't know what the threat is.

I can feel anxious seeing an important e-mail in my mailbox.

The wet floor signs make me feel anxious when I walk in high heels. Usually, they are placed in big public spaces, so if I do not pay attention I might fall badly. As a consequence, when I see them I am on guard.

When I wear expensive jewellery, I feel anxious because I may lose it, or it might get stolen.

Knives can make me anxious when I use them to cut vegetables, because of the fear of hurting myself. Sometimes knives evoke anxiety by association.

When I open my online banking application is a moment of anxiety as I might encounter automatic payments (insurance, yoga membership, public transport, etc.) that I have not calculated in my balance.

These sharp scalpels used by surgeons can create a feeling of anxiety, because I find it quite scary to imagine a body being cut open with one of these.

I was in the airport and dropped my soup. I made a mess and I felt very anxious about the situation because I didn't just want to leave my mess but I had to catch a flight and could not afford delays.

Enabler, Situation

I had to check my water usage for the yearly water bill. I had no idea what the numbers mean but I was anxious that I had to pay much more than I had anticipated.

Enabler, Situation

boredom

Boredom

The feeling when there is nothing interesting or engaging for you to do.

Enabler, Activity

I think commuting is a boring activity, because I'm stuck in a place crowded with strangers where I cannot do much except waiting until I arrive at my destination. I often search for an activity to overcome this boredom, for example, reading or listening to music.

boredom

boredom

This sponge evokes boredom because it has no extraordinary features; it looks like any other sponge. Its form and material derive from its function. And the function itself, cleaning, is a very boring one.

After staying at a vacation home for a few during a holiday, due to lack of new impulses I often tend to get bored very quickly.

Doing the dishes with a dishwashing brush is a repetitive chore I find extremely boring

Sanding an object, even with a sanding machine, is something I find very boring especially because it needs some mental effort while not particularly challenging to do.

The iron evokes boredom because its usage is very much expected and not exciting. All irons work in similar ways. Ironing itself is a boring activity, because it requires the same movements over and over again.

Instrument, Use

challenge

When using my calculator, I feel confident that I will be efficient and effective in meeting the challenge of making complex calculations.

Instrument, Use

challenge

Purchasing high quality sports shoes makes me believe that I will be a better athlete, and that thought, in turn, might indeed make me play better. They make me feel like I am up for the challenge!

Enabler, Situation

Challenge

Feeling powerful, resilient or effective, and having a strong belief in one's abilities or qualities. Confidence arises when we face a challenge for which you know to have the required mental and physical resources that are required to prevail.

challenge

When I do extreme sports like surfing and skydiving, I always enjoy the challenge of staying in control in unpredictable situations.

Enabler, Activity

challenge

My bookshelf makes me feel confident because it symbolises how much knowledge I have accumulated over the years. At the same time, it symbolises the challenge of keeping an open mind and to never stop learning.

Object, Association

challenge

Wearing a bikini on the beach can sometimes be a challenge, especially when seeing people who are very confident about their body because they have been working out to welcome the summer.

Enabler, Situation

challenge

Power steering helps the car turn in any direction easily with a gentle touch - this gives a solid feeling of control and confidence over the vehicle when driving.

Instrument, Use

challenge

My business suit makes me feel strong and assertive when presenting ideas in a high-stake meeting, which gives me confidence. Then, I embrace the challenge!

Enabler, Situation

challenge

Last year, I was awarded with this wooden medal for having the third best project in a design course. When I see the medal, I enjoy the memory of that challenging project.

Object, Association

challenge

I feel confident when I see this wooden medal that was given to me last year for having the third best project in a course.

Object, Association

challenge

This jacket makes me feel challenged whenever I have important events such as an interview or a presentation. I have a few items in my wardrobe that make me feel confident and I use them whenever I feel nervous.

Enabler, Situation

challenge

I feel challenged when I see improvements in my drawing skills. It reminds me that the more I practice the better I will become, and it gives me the courage to draw whatever I want.

Enabler, Activity

challenge

This sawing-machine takes some courage to use. The saw is rotating and I have to be careful on which side I place my object and fingers to avoid injury. It's a challenge because there is no cover to protect me from harm.

Instrument, Use

challenge

When camping or hiking in a rural area that I am not familiar with, the compass tells me the direction and gives me courage to enjoy the challenge of keeping moving forward.

Enabler, Situation

challenge

I feel challenged when I see improvements in my drawing skills. It reminds me that the more I practice the better I will become, and it gives me the courage to draw whatever I want.

Enabler, Activity

challenge

Mobile map applications (like Google Maps) are a trustful tool when I am in an unfamiliar city or country. During my traveling, it encouraged me to challenge myself to explore the city and enjoy my journey!

Enabler, Situation

challenge

Love Your Melon is an apparel brand on a mission to give a hat to every child battling cancer in America. When wearing the hat, these children do not differ from healthy kids. By protecting the children from discrimination, the hat can help them in their challenging situation.

Enabler, Situation

challenge

I feel determination and challenged when using the bow and arrow to shoot a target.

Enabler, Activity

challenge

This is a character from a computer game who is brave and approaches any adverse situation with a positive mind-set. When I see it, I feel determined to face challenges, just like in the game. Nothing can stop me from chasing my dream.

Object, Association

challenge

The sound of the starting gun gives the runners a signal to try their best. As a runner, I feel determined to reach my goal of running as fast as I can until the end.

Enabler, Situation

challenge

The mug named "Mr. Strong" makes me feel like I am strong and powerful. The red colour and the character's face gives me some courage to face my challenges and adversities.

Object, Form

challenge

This tableware set is designed for people with dementia, to help them eat better and maintain their well-being and dignity. The contrast of colour and ease of use can provide confidence when challenged by the complexity of eating a meal.

Instrument, Use

challenge

This picture was taken in Banaue in the Philippines; it is a beautiful site with rice terraces. During our hike, it was pouring most of the day. This emergency poncho gave us the courage to continue on this challenging hike, knowing we would not get soaking wet.

Enabler, Situation

confusion

confusion

confusion

Confusion

The feeling when you are confronted with information that does not make sense to you, leaving you uncertain what to do with it.

I get confused when I select wine because it is not clear which type of cap the bottles have. I do not have a bottle opener and therefore I should select wine bottles without a cork cap, but sometimes it is difficult to see.

Instrument, Acquire

When I first used an all-in-one computer, I was confused because I was looking for the start button. This was because I was used to a regular desktop computer.

Instrument, Use

Traffic signs can be overwhelmingly confusing, especially in foreign countries.

Instrument, Use

confusion

Personally, I find buying groceries a confusing activity. The numerous similar options and the extensive information on each product is exhausting.

Enabler, Activity

contempt

Contempt

The feeling when you look down on someone. You don't want to have anything to do with a person like this.

This is one of the coffee machines in my kitchen and it is an example of a product that was made for profitability, without considering sustainability. I have a very low opinion of such products and feel contempt towards them.

Object, Association

As a former skateboarder I am highly prejudiced about longboarders and have a lot of contempt for them: I think they ride a longboard to look as cool as skateboarders do, but are too scared to get hurt and too unskilled and undisciplined to master the skill of riding the streets like a true skateboarder does.

Enabler, Activity

Some products exist just as a symbol of higher status and nothing else. Such products evoke contempt; they remind me of how materialistic people can be, and how money is given more importance over human values.

Object, Association

contempt

contempt

contempt

contempt

This is my roommate's BMW. I feel contempt for this car and the way he uses it. This is his transportation vehicle to the university, while the ride takes just as much time as cycling there. He clearly prioritises looks and comfort over sustainability and his own health.

Enabler, Relation

For most people this Prada ostrich leather bag is a symbol of high fashion and status. But when I look at it, all I can think of is how ostriches are tortured and beaten to death just for fashion's sake. I feel contempt when I think of how shallow humanity is that they do something this heinous just for something so trivial.

Object, Association

These laundry pouches are cute and actually handy in use. But I feel contempt towards manufacturers when they try to convince me that the different colours and shapes actually influence the laundry results. Come on guys, we all know that this is just marketing, nothing more and nothing less. We're consumers, we're not ignorant.

Object, Form

I understand that we have to have some rules to function as a community, but I do feel some contempt to these unsympathetic 'forbidden' signs that the municipality puts up. I don't understand why they need to be so punitive.

Enabler, Situation

contentment

contentment

Contentment

Enjoying a state of mental or physical calmness, slowing down and enjoying the present moment. Contentment arises when everything is well, we are free from worries or discomfort, and we have nothing urgent to do.

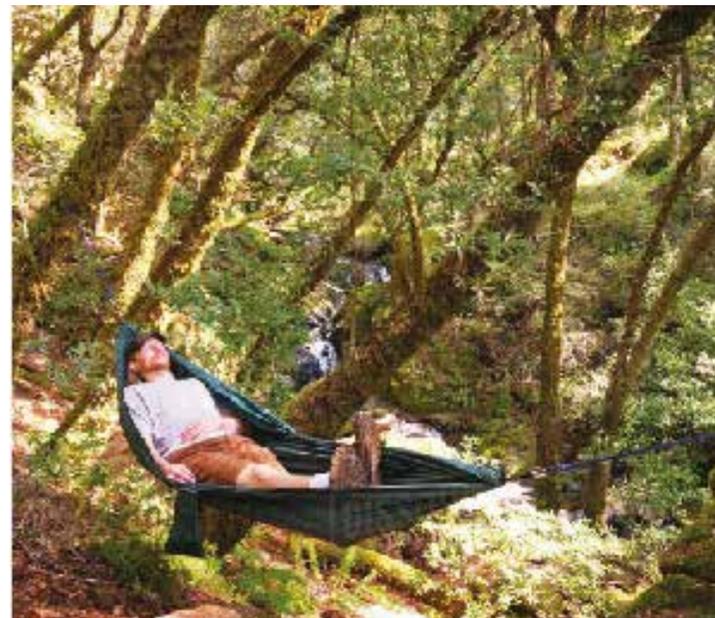

I feel great contentment when I see the wooden beach lounge chair. I close my eyes and see myself relaxing in it.

Object, Association

Looking at my daughter playing with her new doll house, seeing her being cheerful makes me feel very content.

Enabler, Activity

I felt very content when I was laying in my hammock, in the middle of the forest.

Enabler, Activity

contentment

Drinking a nice cup of tea with a friend gives me the possibility to enjoy my time and forget the tension of all the things I have to do. Just a moment to breathe and feel free from all the must do's for a moment.

Enabler, Activity

contentment

When seeing the hammock, I already can imagine myself sitting down in it and enjoying being comfortable, feeling carefree and just looking at the tree above me, hearing the wind through the leaves.

Object, Association

contentment

A lounge chair, like this famous design by Charles Eames, is a symbol of design and relaxation and it makes me feel contentment.

Object, Association

contentment

When the sun shines through my curtains while waking up, it always gives me contentment. I do not feel any stress, no tension, only a serene feeling. The day can wait.

Instrument, Use

shock

I felt shocked when I saw how Dutch people clean their dishes. I do the dishes in a totally different way. I use a sponge and clean them one by one, whereas Dutch students put all the dishes in the sink with water and soap and clean all of them at the same time.

Enabler, Activity

The idea of the danger a good knife can bring, makes handling a more conscious action. Sometimes it can be scary to use the knife and if it (almost) goes wrong – a moment of shock.

Enabler, Activity

Seeing the women's lip stretched by this adornment shocks me, even though I realise that there are cultural differences in how we express ourselves and what we consider to be beautiful.

Object, Form

Hearing that someone nearby got sick will evoke many emotions, such as fear and sadness. In comparison to these emotions, shock is chiefly a reaction to something unexpected.

The artist Ai Weiwei intentionally shattered an ancient vase as an art performance. I was deeply shocked because the vase is part of our cultural heritage. I understand the intentions. But still I am shocked.

In the case of an unexpected pregnancy, the outcome of the test evokes shock. The emotion is not evoked because of the product itself, but due to concerns related to the future and changing social dynamics.

I was shocked when seeing Allen Jones' furniture design series. Firstly, seeing a human figure as part of an object is unusual. Secondly the way of using the figure creates discomfort since it has offensive associations like slavery or sadism.

Taboo is a strong provider of shock. I am not shocked by this sex toy, nor does using it shock me. But once, in a situation with another person, she tried to pressure me into using it, and I was shocked by her peer pressure.

Even when I know that I am not in any danger, objects that cause severe and gruesome harm, like this guillotine, can, just by association, cause me to feel shocked. It is my imagination.

Object, Association

I felt shocked the first time I saw kids wearing a security harness because it reminded me of the ones that are used for pets. At first, I thought it was weird to use this product with kids since the main use was for pets.

Enabler, Activity

I feel shocked that there are many countries in which the use of weapons is allowed. It might be due to my culture and values; I consider myself to be a pacifist and I cannot understand how this type of product can be used by regular citizens.

I was in shock when I opened the case of my external hard disc. I needed it for a project presentation, and when opening the case I saw that the disc was there but the cable to connect it to my computer was not. I had forgotten it at home. Shock came through the realization that I would not be able to present the material that I had prepared.

This case holds ear plugs. It is attached to my key chain to make sure I have them whenever I may need them. I was in shock when I wanted to use them during a concert to find that they were missing from the case.

I was alerted by noise in the front of my house. When I looked out of the window to see what was going on I was shocked to see that they were taking down the ancient tree in front of my house. I'm still in shock.

Why would you do this to someone? I was shocked to see how this car was vandalized.

When the door closes behind me I am startled and immediately want to make sure that I brought my keys with me.

Enabler, Situation

startle

Sometimes the fire alarm goes off in the middle of the night for no reason. I always wake up startled, full of adrenaline, not knowing what is going on.

Instrument, Use

startle

The feeling when suddenly something unexpected happens, which could be something bad. You have the immediate urge to find out what is going on.

startle

On a weekend with friends some time ago we played reverse hide and seek. Everyone closes their eyes and counts and one person leaves to hide. As soon as someone finds the hidden person he or she hides with him. I wasn't very good at it so I was the last one walking around. When I found them, they immediately started yelling and I felt startled.

sympathy

Feeling empathy for another person's suffering or misfortune, and being motivated to support or comfort them. Sympathy arises when we put ourselves in the shoes of someone who is suffering distress.

Enabler, Activity

Artificially nurturing a puppy which has lost its mother is done out of a feeling of sympathy. The milk bottle evokes this emotion already in itself, but it also has a strong symbolic meaning.

worship

Feeling an urge to idolise, honour, and be devoted to someone or something. Worship arises when we think of or interact with someone who we see as greater than ourselves, who we deeply revere and appreciate.

I feel worship when I see my father making hats. He has a lot of patience, understands his clients and does it with a lot of care and taste. I think that it was him who inspired me to become a product designer.

iPhones are the most representative product of the Apple brand, and they became an object of worship. I am highly faithful to my iPhone since it is not only a cell phone but a symbol of splendour and delight.

I worship my headphones because even after they had been in the washing machine for an hour by accident, they still work!

This religious ritual in which people pierce their cheek and thrust with swords is part of a vegetarian festival in Phuket. Their suffering – they hope – draws evil out of the community around them and, in doing so, brings positive luck to their friends and village. The suffering is a way of manifesting worship.

Apple is very successful in achieving customer loyalty. Whenever a new product comes out people stand in line and pay large sums of money to attain a product of their own. The way I use and take care of my Apple products almost resembles religious worship practices.

This chair, commonly used in Catholic churches, is designed specifically to make kneeling down more comfortable. The chair enables me to be in a position of worship towards my deity.

This example is a bit dated, but still very relatable. A couple of decades ago families would gather around the radio and listen to the news, music and stories. The radio played an important role in family dynamics and was therefore taken care of with much attention.
